NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—New uses for copper metal and an enormously swollen demand for the metal in home and foreign industrial and utility projects, insures a continued broadening of the American copper industry and increasing prosperity for the leading producers. In discussing conditions in the copper industry with the heads of a few giant corporations, the writer found no traces of uncertainty or apprehension over the future.

On the other hand, copper producers are laying their plans for a considerable broadening of production facilities in the immediate future relying upon an increasing demand for the metal in home and foreign industry.
So many uses have been developed for copper since the close of the war that the industry has been revolutionized in mining and fabrication processes, in distribution and marketing and in a dozen and one other processes connected with the production and consumption of copper.

World copper production in 1929 was estimated at 4,200,000,000 pounds by one prominent producer. This compares with 3,800,000,000 in 1928 and a little over 3,000,000,000 pounds in 1927.
A better idea of the growth of the industry in the last three years will be given by the following comparisons:

Monthly production, 1929, 350,000,000 pounds.

Monthly production, 1926, 250,000,000
pounds.

Monthly increase in three years 100-000,000 pounds.

There is no reason for a market recession in copper buying this fall, even if the demand from the automobile and industries falls off as much as the most unfavorable surveys and forecasts indicate. That is the attitude of the copper trade, which sees in the enormous expansion of the utility, lighting and power projects a bigger avenue of copper consumption than the world has ever previously known.

Informative charts in the offices of the copper producers give an accurate picture of what is happening in the world markets and afford opportunities aplenty for "sizing up" the future prospects of the industry. A period of over-buying in the early part of this year forced prices of the red metal from 18 to 24 cents a pound, the peak price of the whole postwar period, and this was followed by a sharp reaction, which practically wiped out all of the first-quarter advance, the result was not surprising to the copper leaders, who realized that over-buying had been taking place.

Not buying orders, but deliveries, constitute the most reliable market gauge, according to the head of one of the country's largest producers. His charts show an abrupt falling off in copper buying at the 24-cent level in the early part of the year, but deliveries were well maintained, showing that the big consumers of copper knew how to handle their market. Not much fluctuation from the 18-cent level is expected in the final three months of 1929, and not much change is desired by copper producers, who prefer above all things a stable market for their metal.

One large producer estimated that 65 per cent of American production would be required for the public utility industry, including telephone, power, light and traction services. The day of isolated plants, he said, is gone. Instead of attempting to generate their own power, industrial plants in all sections of the country were hitching a wire to a central source of power and thereby operating at 33 percent of costs, as compared with the old system.

As to production costs, the higher wage scales, higher fuel prices and mounting transportation charges are more than offset by increasing efficiency and better grade of ore. Many of the copper companies are producing the metal on a profitable basis, from ore which a few years ago was good only for the scrap heap.

ATTRACTIVE WEDDING IN ST. ANN'S CHURCH

Pretty Autumn Wedding Occurs When Pasquale Field
Weds Miss Theresa Felicia

BIG RECEPTION IS HELD

St. Ann's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding yesterday afternoon at three o'clock when Miss Theresa M. Felicia, daughter of Mrs. Mary Sposito, of 213 Franklin street, became the bride of Pasquale Alfred Field, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Dominick Field, of 216 Franklin street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Jenne and the wedding march was played by Miss Frances Tamburella, of Dorrance street.

The bride wore a gown of white satin faced crepe, fashioned on bouffant lines and featuring a hemline long in the back. The bodice was light-fitting, sleeveless and a Bertha of lace was gracefully draped around the neck, ending in a rosette with a long white satin streamer down the back to the bottom of the skirt. The skirt was full and was trimmed with lace. She wore white satin slippers, and silk stockings, and a veil of tulle, edged with lace, which was cap shaped and trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds.

Miss Mary Field, of 216 Franklin street, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and she wore a gown of white satin, also made on bouffant lines, the bodice being tight-fitting, round neck line and sleeveless. The skirt was full and had an uneven hemline, long in the back and short in the front. The only trimming on the dress was a large bow of the material, arranged at the waistline. She wore white slippers and stockings, a bandeau of silver ribbon with rosette at the side, and carried a bouquet of pale pink roses.

Serving Mr. Field as best man was James Sposito, of 213 Franklin street, a step-brother of the bride.

A reception was held in St. Ann's Hall from six to eleven o'clock, at which about 300 guests were present.
Music was furnished by Della's Orchestra.

During the evening, the bride and groom left for a honeymoon, to be away for one week. The bride wore a traveling costume, a garnet satin dress, black slippers, tan stockings and blue velvet hat and coat. Upon their return, the couple will reside at the home of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Field was born in Italy but came to this country when quite young. She attended the public schools and has been employed at the Blue Moon hosiery mill in Croydon.
Mr. Field was born in Bristol. Both are very well known and have many friends. They received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Guests attending the wedding were from Bristol, Frankford, Falls of Schuylkill, Trenton and Riverside.

EDISON BACK AMONG FAMILIAR PLACES

Great Inventor Will Be Highly Honored by Nation
Tonight

WALKS ON SAME EARTH

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 21.—(INS)— Back among the familiar places of his youth where the nation is honoring the fiftieth anniversary of his perfection of the incandescent light, Thomas Edison today turned back the pages of history.

He placed his whole-hearted stamp of approval on the setting for the ceremony this evening when the President of the United States will voice the praise of a nation for his inventive genius and diligence which have marked his life.

Yesterday he strode through Greenfield village, the early American community which has been gathered from many parts of the country by Henry Ford. He walked again on the same soil which lay underfoot when he worked over his first crude idea of the electric light.

It was the dress rehearsal for the climatic event of the nationwide observance of his invention.

He walked again through the buildings that he remembers once belonged to Menlo Park. Even Smith's Creek Station is here and as he strode through it, Tom Edison at first was amazed then he became critical, for he remembered the building as being not quite so clean.

"I wouldn't have believed it," he said, awed by the grandeur of the celebration.

"It's amazing."

CORNERSTONE OF $75,000 BUILDING AND MEMORIAL GATE DEDICATED AT FARM SCHOOL; PRESIDENT OF INSTITUTION SEES AGRARIAN FUTURE

H. D. Allman Delivers Stirring Address in Which He Says Farmer of the Future Must Be A Combination Business Man and Technician — Hundreds Attend the Annual Harvest Festival.

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 21.—The farmer of the future must be a combination of business man and technician.

He must, if he will survive in a profession that "must continue to be an individualistic business of small units and independent ownership," use his head as well as his hands.

In such words as these, decrying the statement that farming as such has fallen upon evil days, Herbert D. All-man, of Philadelphia, president of the National Farm School, near here, yesterday addressed the thirty-second annual harvest festival and pilgrimage of the institution, founded through the vision and idealism of the late Dr. Joseph Krauskopf, rabbi of Temple Keneseth Israel.

Mr. Allman laid the cornerstone for the new $75,000 mechanics and farm administration building, in which the students will be taught how to operate, repair and use the latest kind of farm machinery and power units.

The celebration also was the occasion for the dedication of a memorial gateway entrance and a system of interior roads, the former erected by Isaac A. Silverman, of Philadelphia, in memory of his wife, Ida Hirsch Silverman.

Mrs. Silverman, incidentally, was the mother of Edwin H. Silverman, Philadelphia architect and member of the Board of Directors of the school, who designed the mechanics building.

"If one-fourth of the American population is today producing almost twenty times the farms products of a half century ago," Mr. Allman declared, in his address at the cornerstone laying, "there must be reasons for it."

"Agriculture, notwithstanding public opinion's inherent favorable attitude, has made greater strides under adverse conditions than any other industry. We are on the eve of a still greater development.

"Inventions of new agricultural products through chemical research, financial aid promised by State Bankers' associations and training farmers along scientific lines will inaugurate a new era of prosperity.

"Is it not time," he demanded, "that the oft-quoted expression, 'Farm Depression and Farm Relief,' be thrown in the discard, eliminated from public consciousness?"

"There is no more depression in agriculture than in any other industry.
Farming should be regarded as a staple, growing venture, able to hold up its head, secure in the general business structure of the nation. Farm statistics indicate that nature had co-operated with the farmer this year in wiping out surpluses, that relatively high prices are in prospect for all improved products raised by those who know. The demand for good farming is improving, another indication that farming pays, if scientifically understood and carried on.

"While many authorities, including President Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Chairman Legg, of the Federal Farm Board, are interested in the solution of the farm relief problem, the most that the Government can do is to help the farmers help themselves.

"The Farm Board possesses no miraculous powers, nor has it any money to give away. It cannot set aside natural economic laws. It cannot merge 6,000,000 farms nor subsidize agriculture, or arbitrarily fix prices. It can, however, encourage the development of a full co-operative marketing system, advantageous to the country as a whole.

"The greatest needs of American agriculture are more effective organization—the farmer must use his head with his hands. Those remaining on the land are fighting their way back to prosperity by adopting machine methods, dispensing with superfluous hand-labor, keeping more accurate accounts and following the procedure of up-to-date business. The successful farmer of the future will be a combination business man and technician. He will use machinery, keep accurate records know production costs and how to control them."

The National Farm School, which was established in 1896 with a capital of about $5,000, today has a plant and resources valued at $1,500,000 and a long waiting list of applicants for admission. Dr. Cletus L. Goodling, dean of the school, announced in his annual address.

Dean Goodling reported that the operation of the school during the past year showed a clear profit of $20,000, and declared that "the success and future of agriculture depends more upon efficient operation and proper organization than upon any other factor."

Mr. Allman was re-elected president of the institution; Joseph L. Hagedorn, of Philadelphia, re-elected vice-president, and Isaac A. Silverman, also of Philadelphia, treasurer.

INTERESTING TALK GIVEN TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, of Boston, Speaker at Chapel Exercises

PRAISES KELLOGG PACT

A very interesting talk was given to the students of both the Junior and Senior High School this morning during the chapel exercises by Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, of Boston, who represented the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

In her talk Mrs. Mead gave a brief description of conditions that existed in Italy in the days of Dante and of the vast improvement that the country has made in the past few years in relation to the people quarrelling with one another.

Mrs. Mead explained the disputes between the people of England and Germany. Jealousy was the main point of discussion in her lecture here. Mrs.
Mead stated that Washington and the Constitution were the factors in holding together the thirteen colonies.

"The wealth of the United States is attained because the states do not have duties on goods coming in from another state, and not because of the mineral sources, that she possesses," Mrs. Mead stated.

Mrs. Mead who was a representative of the Peoples Church Conference in Bulgaria in 1914 explained her mission and the existing conditions after the World War.

The speaker recommended "All Quiet on the Western Front" as a book every student and every citizen of the United States should read.

The cost of war is very expensive stated the speaker. The last war in which this country participated cost the people $45,000,000,000 and that is what increases the taxes of this nation.

"The best movement made thus far in abolishing war forever was the recent Kellogg Peace Pact. Fifty nations have already signed this pact and it is a great help to prevent future wars," was the closing remark made by the guest.

An automobile owned by Paxson & Coffin, Langhorne, caught fire at Buckley and Pine streets, last night. The Bristol Consolidated Fire Department was called and extinguished the blaze.
The damage was slight.

ST. ANN'S EASILY WINS OVER WARRINGTON TEAM

Local Eleven Displays Fine Brand of Interference and Good Teamwork

FINAL SCORE IS 31 TO 0

(By T. M. Juno)

Displaying a fine brand of interference and teamwork, Bristol St. Ann's chalked up an easy victory over Warrington A. C., the final count being 31-0.

Five touchdowns were scored by the locals, Spadaccino and Cook counted twice each while Gilardi crossed the last stripe on the other occasion. The only extra point was scored on a fake kick formation when Spadaccino hav-ed a spiral to Gilardi.

The interference put up by the Purple and Gold was the best seen on the local gridiron for many moons. On every play the backfield runner would have from five to six men interference and easily made large gains.

"Socks" Seneca again played good enough to place himself in the limelight. Seneca would always take two or three men out of play on every play, and to top all this was a real stone wall on the defense. Not one yard was gained through his position at tackle.

On the offense Spadaccino and Cook were the leaders. Spadaccino netted from fifteen to thirty yards on every end run besides his line crashing tactics. "Spade" played the entire game at the quarterback post and was a genius in field generalship. Sabatini who usually alternates with the former Bristol High quarterback, missed his first game in six years of St. Ann's football.

The visitors never came within thirty yards of the "Saints'" goal line, although they boasted of a team much heavier than the resident eleven.

The first six-pointer was scored in the first three minutes of play. Bris-

3 WOMEN, 5 MEN HURT IN SERIES OF AUTO SMASHES

Mrs. Laura Hunter, of Andalusia, Struck by Car While On Way to Church

AN AUTO HITS TROLLEY

Machine Crashes Head-On Into Trolley at Eddington,
Saturday Night

Three women and five men were injured in a series of motor accidents which occurred in this section over the week-end. Three machines collided at Tullytown last night in which one man was hurt; two cars crashed at the Tul-lytown bridge early yesterday morning and four were hurt; a woman was struck at Andalusia as she crossed the street last evening, and two women were slightly hurt as the car in which they were riding struck a trolley car at Eddington Saturday night.

Mrs. Laura Hunter, of Andalusia, was perhaps seriously injured early last evening when struck by an automobile at Locust avenue and Bristol pike, Andalusia.

According to an investigation conducted by State Highway Motor Patrol, Langhorne, Mrs. Hunter stepped from behind a parked car into the path of a machine driven by Michael Sabosky, Morrisville, R. D. No. 1.

The patrolman's investigation shows that Mrs. Hunter stepped from behind the parked car into the path of the Sabosky machine. Sabosky endeavored to avoid hitting the woman but the rear fender of his car struck her. Another was immediately following, but this, according to the patrolman, did not strike her.

Mrs. Hunter was brought to the private hospital of Dr. J. Fred Wagner, Bristol. It was said that she may have a possible fracture of the skull.
Sabosky was placed under arrest and given a hearing before Justice Rigby, at Cornwells, who held him under $500 bail to await the outcome of the injuries of Mrs. Hunter.

At the time of the accident Mrs.
Hunter was en route to attend the evening service in the Baptist Church.
Her husband was in Washington, D. C., but in response to a telegram arrived home early this morning.

Three machines collided at Tul-lytown early last evening. One man was injured and two of the cars were considerably damaged.

A car occupied by Charles Jackson, 624 Pine street, Bristol, crashed into one operated by Nathan Gibson, and owned by Joseph Lewis, 64 Sweets avenue, Trenton, N. J. The Jackson car was knocked over into the parked machine of William Solomon, Tullytown.

When Constable Crawford arrived, Jackson was in his car but denied that he had been driving it. Crawford stated that Jackson was under the influence of liquor. He was placed under arrest.

The Jackson machine turned over and the top was crushed.
Nathan Gibson, the only one to be injured in the crash, was brought to the Harriman Hospital here, where glass was removed from his eye after which he left the hospital. His right eye had a ragged laceration.

Early yesterday morning two machines crashed at the Tullytown bridge. The drivers of the two cars blamed the fog for the collision.

LEADERS IN NAME ONLY

There is a continuous obligation owed by every individual to the community and especially by those most favored by fortune. Enlightened self-interest should quicken acceptance of the obligation. There is hardly room for argument that what is good for the community is, broadly considered, good for the individual in his work. Conversely, what is good for the individual in the best sense is good for every other man, woman and child in the community.

Too much must not be expected from politicians and parties, too often approached from both sides on the basis of a horse trade. Governmental agents must be supplemented by the efforts of private persons who can envision things as they ought to be, and at long range. Politicians and officeholders, regardless of what they may say in their campaigns, are mostly concerned with getting into office and staying in. That is why they are in politics. They are in politics to get into office or to have a hand in putting others in office, as other men and women are in business or professions to make money or a career, or both.

But the politician and officeholder is usually wise enough to know that that which is beneficial to the community or state or nation will best react to his benefit. His motives for serving the public may be selfish but the service is no poorer for that.

No man can long remain in public office or coin political control who consistently disregards the will and welfare of the voters. Public service is the foundation upon which he must build his political power. Failure to give satisfactory service has wrecked more political careers than anything else. Convince the majority of the voters that those in office are not giving a fair return, in service, on the dollar, in taxes, and it will take more than a slush fund and political machine to keep them in office.

It will soon be time to start liking summer better than winter.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

ITEMS OF INTEREST AS CLIPPED FROM NEWSPAPER FILES

Thirty-five years ago or on October 20, 1894, the Doylestown Intelligencer published the following:

A marriage license was granted to Charles S. Muschert, of Penn's Manor, and Miss Mercy H. Croasdale, of Fallsington.

RIVERSIDE THEATRE

Manager Little has booked a real comedy for the Riverside Theatre, starting tonight, and showing Tuesday and Wednesday, Richard Dix is the star in his first all-talking picture, "Nothing But the Truth."

The play deals with a young man who makes a wager of $10,000 that he can tell the truth for 24 hours. The farce situations arising from the bet are seemingly endless. In order to win the bet he finds himself telling his sweetheart that he was in love once before with a weight-lifting woman of the circus, telling his boss that he is an unscrupulous business man and a "night-life hound," telling a beautiful singer at a house party that he thinks her singing is terrible, and getting himself into all kinds of laugh-evoking jams.

Richard Dix proves to have a superior capacity for the requirements of the role of the truth-teller. He gives a fine comedy portrayal without recourse to buffoonery. Helen Kane as a member of a singing sister act is winsome, appealing, and exorcisingly funny. Her baby-talk songs are a big part of the show.

Louis John Bartels, Ned Sparks and Berton Churchill, as the friends who make the wager with Dix, are excellent, as are the others in the cast.

Paramount Presents the Funniest All-Talking Picture You've Ever Seen and Heard Could you tell the truth — the whole truth and — for twenty-four hours if the love of "the only girl" and a little side bet of $10,000 depended upon it?

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

Does it hand you a laugh to see someone ridiculously embarrassed—provided it isn't yourself?

Are you interested in the unspoken course of true love? Then you'll thoroughly enjoy this first Paramount all-talking picture.

Tuning in on the Talkies

IN the dialog of "So Long Little," the stage play that now becomes a talkie, Patsy Ruth Miller offers this side light on mere man: "Men are peculiar," Miss Miller admits. "They spend their courting days telling girls how unworthy they are and live their married life in a manner to prove it."

"Gold Diggers of Broadway" must now be content with midget money instead of giant nuggets.

"One Stolen Night" has been returned to a thousand screens and no questions asked.

There are no snobs among telephone girls. They will say "Hello" to anybody.

"Women They Talk About" are sometimes worthy of the effort involved.

Patsy Ruth Miller. It is well for movie patrons to remember that "The Lion and the Mouse" is not an animal picture.

Ladies consider it modest to see with the naked eye and out of style to hear with the naked ear.

With an eye on the Union "Jack," Warner Bros. have planned "Show of Shows" to display more stars than the American flag.

The movies are getting better. Not so many will be sent to Sing Sing hereafter.

Some men prefer silent pictures because they can watch a woman rave and still not hear a word she says.

For "Double Feature Day" "What Happened to Father," "Mother Knows Best."

Too Many "Say It With Songs" For the sake of peace in the neighborhood it's too bad "The Singing Fool" is not in sole keeping of the screen.

A thirty yard forward pass, Spadacino to Gilardi, accounted for the second touchdown in the same period.

It took a forty yard end run by Cook to score the third touchdown for the Bristol team. A well executed pass, Spadacino to Gilardi, scored the point.

Spadacino used his speed to score the fourth touchdown of the day. He went through the center of the line and broke off the grips of two defending players and then raced forty yards to score.

Cook intercepted a pass in the final session and sprinted eighty yards to register the final six point goal.

Next week the Bristol St. Ann's will meet the strong Daytona eleven on Sullivan's field.

EDDINGTON DEFEATS SPARTAN ELEVEN

(By T. M. Juno)

Eddington A. A. returned to last year's form as the team scored a 12-7 victory over the Spartan eleven on the Eddington grounds.

The game was hard fought from start to finish and despite the fact that the visitors held a 7-0 edge in the first half, Eddington came right back and scored twice.

A nice, long forward pass, Tate to Cozzo, was responsible for the Spartan's touchdown. Cozzo booted the extra count.

Eddington's first touchdown came in the third period when "Bud" David skirted around right for forty yards and a six-pointer.

The second touchdown for the winners came in the same period when a Spartan back fumbled behind his goal line and Early recovered for an Eddington touchdown.

Appointed New "Yankee" Manager

Shawkey's appointment came not only as a distinct surprise to baseball fans but a disappointment as well, as none of the "dopesters" had considered him as even a remote possibility in the list of candidates eligible to fill the managerial shoes of the late Miller Huggins.
